

Acutrack recommends producing and sending a physical proof prior to the print production. The physical proof enables you to see exactly how your finished product will look including the size and positioning of your design elements and functionality of your product. If you waive the physical proof option and are not satisfied with the print production thereafter we attain zero responsibility and the project will be deemed as complete.

However, it does take time to produce a physical proof and the production timeline can start only after physical proof is approved by you.

If you are considering waiving your rights to see a physical proof, you may please complete the details and submit this form to pm@acutrack.zendesk.com

I authorize Acutrack to proceed with book print production based on my PDF approval only and waive rights to see physical proofs for the following print projects:
